

sects, reptiles, dogs and -also the stings of and wasps-should be intly treated with quickest and surest dy for pains, aches and ness of any kind. Used ywhere for fifty years, sold everywhere this Double quantity but same quality— rice, 25c a bottle. See that you get the (Perry Davis & Son) Pain-Killer.

Pain Goes (hen PAIN-KILLER Comes

Steel. and acksmith's Coal, Iorseshoe Nails,

Chains, etc.,

for sale tly for Cash on Delivery,

. W. MURKLAND'S.

ve just put in a large stock of er Belting of all widths, such ill men are likely to want, gs, Belt Hooks and Files.

BOOMING

e Greate Hardware Store of ue & Blanchard,

NEWPORT.

We are now selling a handsome new

LOVELL-DIAMOND FOR $58.

d, by the way, the Lovell-Diamond seems e the leading wheel this season. They built for service, speed and beauty, and he bil every time.

il nd Gasolene Stoves.

n't kill yourself over a red-hot wood e, when you can buy a good oil stove of ONLY 58c.

hey are safe, economical, handy, and if were to use one for a week you would not without it for twice the cost. When in sport come in and see our

New Process Gasolene Stoves,

wonder of the year; on exhibition every Don't fail to see our stock of Hose, in Mowers, Window Screens, Screen rs, and the thousand other things which rest you at this season.

tip top 14 in. Lawn Mower for $2.98.

re you going to use that old Cultivator s season? Come in and see one with which can save twice the labor and do double here is on exhibition in our show window s week one of the best assorted stocks of

Fishing Tackle

er shown in Newport. Rods, Lines, Bait, d all the other apparatus, bought in large antities, and being sold at rock bottom f you can't come and see us, use the telephone.

LADIES' COLUMN.

Clean glass globes by soaking first in hot soda water; then wash in lukewarm ammonia water and rinse in clear cold water.

To keep salt from hardening in the finely sifted flour with the salt.

A room furnished in cretonne, with mantel drape, portieres, bedspread, window hangings, etc., all alike, is tively small.

Castor oil is the best thing with which to soften leather.

apple dumplings. it may be fastened at the side of the same way that a dressmaker ties on her scissors.

limewater and sweet oil mixed together and applied as often as necessary to keep the burn moist and covered with it.

Strong alum water is efficacious as a vermin destroyer.

Add a tablespoonful of powdered borax to the bath, as it will soften the water and prove very invigoratadding the peel of six oranges to a help smiling. pint of alcohol.

Thread a needle from the end of the thread last cut from the spool.

Stuff a rag saturated with cayenne pepper in rat holes. Buy new rubber rings for fruit jars.

Don't use the old ones if you want your canned fruit to keep. Chemists say it takes more than twice as much sugar to sweeten preserves, sauces and the like if put in behind, for the Chinese are a very when they begin to cook as it does to add it after the process is accomplished. A freckle cure that is said to be infallible and harmless is made of refined linseed oil, glycerine and rose-of summer freckling. SPOILING BUTTER AFTER IT IS MADE.

Dairy writers frequently caution against placing butter where it will absorb the odors or flavors from decaying vegetables. The worst thing about this is the need of it. Butter will absorb odors, not only from stale vegetables, but from sound ones, and they impart to butter a flavor that destroys or overpowers the true butter flavor. A case is in mind just now. The writer was supplying butter to the former owner of this farm, and one day planned what was intended for a pleasant surprise, so, before the cover was nailed down, some nice apples with a delicious aroma were placed within the package, separated from the butter by a cloth circle and a layer of salt. The surprise was on the other side. Word came back that the butter was fine in looks, grain, and everything but flavor, that was not agreeable.

Now, some butter has an unpleasant flavor that never was near a rosy apple, and there was a possibility that the cause should be sought elsewhere, but in due time came a later report saying that the butter was excellent after the surface layer had been removed. This suggests another point: Consumers should have a suitable place to keep butter after they get it. If the surface is all the time exposed to the odors of vegetables and kitchen flavors unclassified, the best butter will soon get off flavor, and the maker will be under suspicion of furnishing butter that will not keep.

As the season of peaches, plums and apricots has arrived, those who wish to can increase and improve clovers in a lifetime.-Boston Trantheir orchards by a careful selection | script. of the best stones of these fruits. These stones may be sown immediately in 12 inch rows in good garden soil, or they may be preserved until fall or next spring by placing them in moist sand or earth in some shed or

The best way is to mix stones and sand together and then place in low flat boxes and put these boxes in the cellar in earth up to a level with the top of the box. They will keep excellently and without loss. The usual plan of wrapping the stones up in paper and keeping them dry until fall is a bad one, as the fruit kernel dries out and few will sprout when planted.

When a gentleman and his wife are invited and do not go to a reception, all that is necessary to represent them is their visiting cards, says the July Ladies' Home Journal. A man and his wife have separate visiting cards, those uniting the names being seen very seldom nowadays. A wedding it, the reproach will gradually disapinvitation should receive some recognition; a courteous little note containing either an acceptance or a regret would seem to be the proper way in which to acknowledge this civility. When a lady and her daughter send out cards for an afternoon tea, one would send, if one did not go, a card

THE BOY KING OF SPAIN, ALFONSO III.

He is very affectionate in his disposition, although he has a very firm will; and he tendely loves his mother, whom he also greatly respects, and salt cellars mix a little cornstarch or his sisters, who are his favorite play-

He seems, as he grows older, to be perfectly concious of his exalted position. He knows that he is the King, dainty, and the expense is compara- and in the official receptions and ceremonies at which he has to be present he rarely becomes impatient, however long and solemn they may Cranberries are nice made into be. One of these rare occasions was dumplings and steamed or baked like | during a royal reception in the throne room. He was sitting at the right A holder may be so arranged that | hand of the Queen, and all the high functionaries and courtiers were dedress from a long piece of tape, in the filing past him, when he began to play with the white wand of office of the Duke of Mendia-Sidonia, a great A remedy for a burn that every- officer of the palace. Suddenly leavbody should know is equal parts of ing his seat and the wand of the Duke, he ran down the steps of the throne, and mounted astride of one of the bronze lions that stand on either side of it. The act was so entirely childlike and spontaneous, and was performed with so much grace, that it gave every one present a sensation of real pleasure. Even the Queen herself, while she regretted that the young King should have failed in the Make your own orange extract by etiquette of the occasion, could not

On another occasion he amused himself greatly watching the Chinese diplomats, looking with wonder and delight at their silk dresses, which he would touch from time to time with his little hands. pigtail. He waited a long time in vain for a chance to look at it from never think of turning his back upon the King. At last it occurred to Alwaiting for the Chinese minister to turn round, so that I may steal up behind him, and look at his pigtail."

FINDING FOUR-LEAFED CLOVERS.

clovers is apparently a gift of the gods and is not to be won by much seeking. 'Tis said that a certain Boston maiden would sit down upon a grassy plot and presently half-aand talking, nor seemed to look for them. When she really used her talent, the witch-hazel's power to find hidden springs was not to be compared with her. Once somebody wagered her that she could find one four-leafed clover every minute, and she took it up, modestly asserting that this was an overestimate of her fairy-given powers. She sauntered away by herself; there was a swish of white muslin vanishing through a little sunlit grove. She came back in twenty minutes and her bunch of four-leafed clovers was counted. There were seventeen of them. "There," she said contentedly, "I knew I couldn't find one every minute. But perhaps," she added thoughtfully-"perhaps I didn't really work." It was told of her that when she was seventeen she found ninety in one long August afternoon, but to this day she will neither deny nor declare this. She smiles faintly and inscrutably; wood witchery and meadow gaddesses are not to be quizzed by every-day mortals, who are glad if they can find one or two four-leafed

Old maids have not so much need of any one taking up their cause now-adays. They are abundantly able to take care of themselves, without fear or favor. But a correspondent of a New York paper has taken the trouble to ask that some new term be invented to take the place of spinster, which never meant any thing in this country, anyway. Upon this the Brooklyn Eagle asks. what is the matter with the term old maid, and goes on to say that the reproach in the application of old maid lay in the fact not in the name. "So long as the only ambition of woman was to get a husband, the women who got left in the race were naturally objects of derision. Now that the opening of occupations are mobilized a great army of women who prefer to earn good livings for themselves and to have liberty free from responsibility rather than share a crust with any stray man who offers pear. An old maid from her own choice stands on a very different footing from one who remains such by the choice of all the men she happens to know. The presumption that the latter is the case is rapidly disappearing from the industrial army of American womanhood. The woman who is earning $1200 a year and upward is not worrying very much whether people speak of her as an old maid or as a girl bachelor, or even spinster, ridiculous as the latter word is."-Manchester Union.

Concerning the Tussock moth and its ravages in and about Boston, James Bartlett Wiggins writes that it is time for good people to awake and help to stop this common enemy. The Tussock moth breeds twice a year. One generation has already done its work; spreading devastation, by eating the leaves of the trees. The cocoons of the last batch of destroyers are now on the trunks of the trees and ought to be removed at once. These cocoons are about an inch long, and in plain sight of all. Take a short ladder, or steps, and a spike or old fork and tin dipper, and scrape them off and burn them. From five to ten minutes' work will remove them, before the hatch, from a small tree. Pay a boy from five to twenty-five cents each tree. Women ought to start it along. Let everybody work against the common enemy. No matter if you are only a tenant, do something for your own benefit and the common good.

Once the streets of Jerusalem were clean, for every man kept clean before his own house. Now let every citizen do something, and the dirty yellow caterpillars can be kept under. They are dirty and unhealthy. Any man that allows these pests to eat the leaves off his trees, hangs out the sign of a bad citizen and a selfish, lazy

The number of icebergs given off

by a glacier varies somewhat with the What most attracted his attention, weather and the tides, the average however, was the Chinese minister's being one about every five or six minutes, counting only those large enough to thunder louldly, and make themselves heard at a distance of two polite people, and the minister would or three miles. The very largest, however, may be heard ten miles, or even farther. When a large mass fonso to run and hide himself in a sinks from the upper fissured portion corner of the vast apartment, and of the wall, there is first a keen piercwait for his opportunity, which he | ing crash, then a deep, deliberate, water. The lotion is cooling, not did. After a while the President of prolonged thundering roar, which greasy and proves efficacious in cases | the Cabinet, seeing him in the corner, | slowly subsides into a low muttering went over to him and said, "What is growl, followed by numerous smaller your Majesty doing here?" "Let me grating, clashing sounds from the alone," answered the boy; "I am agitated bergs that dance in waves about the newcomer as if in welcome; and these again are followed by the swash and roar of the waves that are raised and hurled against the moraines. But the largest and most beautiful of the bergs, instead of thus The talent for finding four-leafed falling from the upper weathered portion of the wall, rise from the sub. merged portion with a still grander commotion, springing with tremendous voice and gestures nearly to the top of the wall, tons of water streamdozen four-leafed clovers would be ing like hair down their sides, plungseen twirling in her slim fingers, ing and rising again and again before though she had never ceased smiling they finally settle in perfect poise, free at last, after having formed part of a slow-crawling glacier for centuries .- The Century.

Did You Ever

Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all female complaints, exerting a wonderful direct influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. If you have loss of appetite, constipation, headache. fainting spells, or are nervous, sleepless, exciteable, melancholy or troubled with dizzy spells, Electric Bitters is the medicine you need. Health and strength are guaranteed by its use. Large bottles only fifty cents at H. C. Pierce's drug store.

Away to the extreme south of the tongue of land where Siberia ends and Corea begins stands the town of Viadivostock, thirty-four years old, planted in a land which would serve to typify the abomination of desolation, but which today has nearly 20,-000 inhabitants. These are principally military. For hundreds of miles inland the population consists of the small military posts by which communication is maintained up the Suifun to the Cossack settlements on the Usuri. The principal object in founding the town was to have a great naval station on the Pacific. Naturally the most southern point was chosen, but although Viadivostock stands in the same parallel as Marseilles, the cold is very severe. The Gulf of Peter the Great, on which is is situated, never freezes, but a thin coat of ice forms along its shores in December. and for a couple of months ships are kept icebound. It is in this harbor from which they could reach Japan in a bound, that the Russian war vessels have been so significantly collected.

MOTHERS

ment are greatly shortened. It also promotes the secretion o an abundance of nourishment for the child. an abundance of nourishment for the child.

Mrs. DORA A. GUTHRIE, of Oakley, Overton Co., Tenn., writes: "When I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription,' I was not able to stand on my feet without suffering almost death. Now I do all my housework, washing, cooking, sewing and everything for my family of eight. I am stouter now than I have been in six years. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is the best to take before confinement, or at least it proved so with me. I never suffered as little with any of my children as I did with my last, and she is the healthiest we've got. Have induced several to try 'Favorite Prescription,' and it has proved good for them."

August Attractions at OWEN'S!

We have a few of those pretty and Blazer Suits Duck Suits

Left that we have had such a run on, also

50 Print Wrappers

At less than you can buy the Print and get them made.

A fine line of Muslin Underwear,

Including the new Umbrella Skirts.

We are giving away costly presents every day; do you get your share of them?

Summer Goods

Will soon have to take a back seat, and everything in that line will be sold at tempting prices during this month.

Our Grocery Dept.

Is full of good things, that will tempt the hot weather appetites, and come in handy at picnics and camps. Fancy Cakes and Biscuits, Jams, Jellies, Sardines, Deviled Ham, Canned Turkey and Chicken, Evaporated Horse Radish, Pickled Olives, Onions, Gherkins and Chow, Sweet and Sour Pickles, New Cheese, Lemons, Oranges, Onions, and Root Beer Extract. Until further notice we will sell you a gallon of good Molasses for 45 cents, and give you a gallon jug to carry it home in.

We are now getting large orders for butter, and want all the fresh made butter we can get in trunks and crates and ten pound tubs. Can pay this week 15 to 16 cents for fancy tub butter, and 16 to 18 for fancy crates and trunks.

O. D. OWEN.

Barton, Aug. 5, 1895.

WHEELER & LOCKE.

Barbed or Plain Wire and Cedar Posts

FOR FALL FENCING.

TIMOTHY

FOR FALL SEEDING.

Eggs, 14 cents.

WHEELER & LOCKE.

August 12, 1895.

IRABURGH, VT.

REMOVAL, CLOSING OUT SALE!

As I am about to remove my business at the close of this season to another building, I wish to close out all goods possible before that time. Have made a SWEEPING REDUCTION in prices in every line. A large stock BARTON PANTS, price reduced from $2.00 to $1.60. Several hundred yards of those HANDSOME REMNANTS from five yards down, suitable for ladies' cloakings, men's and boys' clothing, reduced from 45c to 40c per yard, to close. Vests, singly or with suits. Hand-Spun Stocking Yarns, fine and coarse, white and colors. Hand-Spun Stockings and Mittens. Prices on men's Jersey Shirts and Underwear way down. These goods are all perfect. Have a few goods left yet damaged by smoke and water, cheap.

Hihgest price paid for wool in exchange. WOOL CARDING done as usual. Call into BARTON WOOLEN MILL.